Set in the heart of Western Sydney's thriving commercial district, Clarion Hotel on the Park introduces both corporate and leisure travellers to a refreshing blend of service and facilities within a relaxed and friendly environment – all within walking distance to the business, dining and entertainment hub of Parramatta.

About Parramatta

Parramatta is the geographic hub of Sydney, the largest city in New South Wales after Sydney itself, and a key location in Australia's history.

Originally home to the indigenous Burramattagal people, the area evolved into a farming settlement late in 1788 after the arrival of the First Fleet from England. Crops were grown and livestock raised in the Parramatta region to sustain the growing colony, and community infrastructure including hospitals, schools and churches were constructed, with many fine examples still standing today, among them Australia's oldest public building, the Old Government House, built between 1799 and 1818 by Governors Hunter and Macquarie.

Today, reflecting its past as an administrative centre, Parramatta is a major hub for corporate head offices and Australian Government departments, while radiating from the city centre are major retail and entertainment venues including the Sydney Olympic Games site at Homebush, Rosehill Gardens Racecourse, Parramatta Stadium, Parramatta City Speedway and Westfield Parramatta.
