When you're considering a domestic cleaning service, choose a business that's well established and can provide testimonials from current satisfied customers.

The Cost Features

There is no standard pricing index used to determine domestic cleaning service fees. Some businesses charge by the hour whilst others will charge by the scope of the work required, either way consideration is given to the following factors:

Size - The square footage of a home.

Layout - The type of home, including number of bedrooms, bathrooms and living areas.

Style of home - Homes of a minimalist style are easier to clean than ones that have a lot of collectibles.

Residents - The number of people living within a household can add to determining the amount of cleaning required.

Pets - Generally homes with pets require additional attention.

Children - Homes with younger children can require additional attention.

Frequency of cleaning - The longer the gap in between your cleans the longer each clean will take.

One off cleans - One off cleans/spring cleans are generally more expensive.

Discounts - Many companies offer discounts or reduced costs for regular clients.

The Service Features

There are professional and ethical obligations a cleaning business should adhere to in order to provide you with a quality stress free clean.

Have background checks been done? Do they have a national police check?

Are the cleaners trained in providing a quality and efficient clean? Do they follow Health and Safety regulations?

Do the cleaners provide their own equipment and products?

Importantly, ensure that they have Public Liability insurance.

Will you be provided a receipt for each clean and how do you pay?

Are there any guarantees on the quality of the cleaning provided?

Ways you can assist with your cleaning service process

Commit to tidying up around the house before the cleaners arrive. Put away children's toys, old newspapers and pick up clothes off the floor.

Stick to a regular cleaning schedule. Regular cleaning extends the life of everything from the floors to furniture. A professional quality job will give you more satisfaction than a quick cheap clean.
