WHO WE ARE

Annandale General Practice is a newly opened family medical practice. We welcome Drs Sari Larsen and Liz Rickman who have been faithfully servicing Annandale for more than 30 years. Now at a new location, fully computerised in a brand-new-state-of-the-art-surgery.

Practising in Annandale continuously for more than 50 years. Founded in the 1960s by Dr Ben Bartlett, Dr Sari Larsen and Dr Liz Rickman continue the tradition of providing personalised care for families in the Inner West area at 6 Macquarie Street, Annandale. Upgrading services and injecting modern technology into practice, Dr Daniel Ong and Dr Amy Ho joined our team at the new site of 34C Taylor Street, Annandale – established in May 2015.

With a bigger team of health professionals including male and female doctors. In-house paediatrician available now. We endeavour to continue to provide the highest level of care and warm professional service. We take pride in making sure we fit your appointments within the day or next day the latest. Our books are now opened again. New patients welcome.
