Handy hints for maintaining your home

- Roof leaks - leaves and other debris can accumulate on roofs, blocking gutters and downpipes. Cleaning should be conducted regularly and at least once a year before the wet season.
- Landscaped gardens - ensure rainwater flows away from the building
- Timber decks are often painted or oiled. Regular maintenance will be required. Refer to manufacturer's maintenance guidelines for timing of maintenance.
- Interior grout that is regularly exposed to water and cleaning products sometimes needs repair. Proper maintenance can prevent unexpected water damage and can help your bathroom and kitchen look nice and last longer.

What our clients have told us

Kerry from Windsor

"I wanted to thank you Robert for your help and advice in refreshing my home. It's not often you get good service these days and your reliability and professional approach was appreciated. My bathroom looks fabulous and I can't wait to tackle the kitchen next. I am extremely happy with the outcome and the way it was achieved and would have no hesitation in recommending your services to others."

Jan from Rosalie

"I had all these jobs to do around the house with no time to do them, and no tools or skills to even know where to start. Then I heard about Robert Green. I phoned and he was around that same week. I left him with my long list, headed off to work and when I got home it was all done – fence painted, hooks on the wall, and a new clothes line. Wonderful!

Rosemary from Macau (near Hong Kong)

"Living so far away makes it very difficult when trying to arrange maintenance for our property in Brisbane. Family members had used Robert for some odd jobs around their homes and had given glowing reports regarding the quality of his work, as well as his open and honest approach, so when we needed to have our bathroom renovated, I contacted Robert who agreed to project manage the job on our behalf. For us, it was the knowledge there was someone we could trust to oversee the work and ensure our home was kept safe when we were so far away."

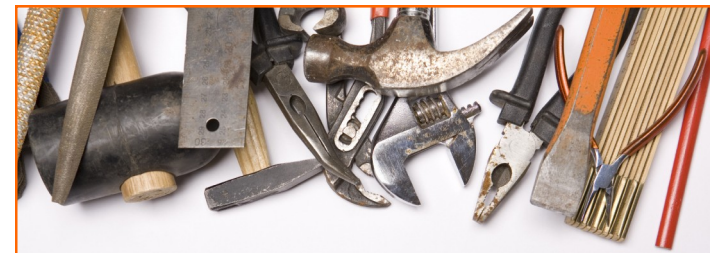

Our story

Green's Handyman Service was created when the owner, Robert Green, found his skills as a handyman were being sought by family and friends who had neither the time, knowledge nor desire to undertake the small but necessary tasks to maintain their homes and apartments.

Robert has a wealth of knowledge and experience, built up over more than twenty years building and renovating boats, and managing a landscape supplies business. He realized he could use his skills and experience to provide a service which would be highly valued by busy people and businesses.

It became obvious there was a need for a business specialising in small jobs – someone who could be relied upon and with whom homeowners felt confident to invite into their homes, and this is where Green's Handyman Service excels.
