

Australian Fatigue Management

For Bus and Truck Drivers:

TLIF2010 Apply Fatigue Management Strategies.

Now
$95!

This is the course you need to do if you want to drive for extended hours for an operator that is accredited under Basic, Advanced Fatigue Management (BFM or AFM), or WA Heavy Vehicle Accreditation.

Course Details

For Schedulers:

TLIF3063 Administer the Implementation of Fatigue Management Strategies

Now
$145

Under the National Heavy Vehicle Law, operators working their drivers under Basic Fatigue or Advanced Fatigue Management (BFM or AFM) must have at least one person qualified to manage the Fatigue Management System.

Course Details

For Drivers and Schedulers:

TLIE3028 Complete a work diary in the transport industry.

Now
$90!

This course supplements both of the previous courses by giving more training on the legislative requirements of the NHVL and deals with the correct diary completion, cancellations and corrections, exemptions, penalties, interstate travel obligations as well as other legal requirements relating to the carrying and use of the diary.

Course Details

About Australian Fatigue Management

Established in 2008, Australian Fatigue Management is the Transport Industry online training facility that minimises classroom training and down time by providing an efficient, but comprehensive online method of training and assessment at a minimal cost.

AFM is a well-focused response to the current new wave of regulation requiring transport operators to adopt and implement the national road transport reform.

Contact Us

To send us an email or ask us a question, click on the contact us button below.

Contact Us

Contact Details

Email:

admin@australianfatiguemanagement.com

Phone:

1300 328 448