

PERFECT SECURITY

Calamity Monitoring owns Australia's highest-rated security monitoring centre. We install and maintain electronic security systems and monitor them 24/7 for your total protection.

Unlike many security companies Calamity does not outsource monitoring to cheaper wholesale providers. We own our own monitoring centre and can deliver the highest possible quality of service in-house. Calamity's Centre for Advanced Security Technology and Leadership Excellence (CASTLE) is recognised as the finest monitoring centre in the country. Highly secure, fully attack-resistant and fire-resistant as well, it was built specifically to ensure nothing and nobody will prevent us looking out for our customers every single day of the year. Our website shows you how serious we are about your protection.

Our multi-million dollar, award winning monitoring centre has been 'graded' by ASIAL to Australian Standard 2201.2 at the A1 Level – the highest possible security rating. This allows Calamity to monitor the security of banks, embassies and critical infrastructure. However it also extends this quality to monitoring private homes, families and businesses nationwide.

Calamity was also the first Australian monitoring centre to ever achieve a Five Diamond certification by the CSAA.

UNBEATEN TECHNOLOGY

While most companies have been installing the same old systems for decades, Calamity leads the way in security technology in Australia. Our modern approach allows us to provide services other security companies cannot match.

CONVENIENCE AND PEACE OF MIND

As well as basic security protection, Calamity can install systems which allow you to use your PDA or Mobile Phone to open gates or doors when you aren't around and wish to receive deliveries. You can arm/disarm systems when you are away, know when the kids come home or keep an eye on your staff when you're out of the office. Monitored smoke detection is available. We specialise in outdoor detectors to detect criminals before they even enter your premises.

Calamity also monitors industrial plant such as temperature in coolrooms and server rooms or other critical systems. Our customised service can help keep you in business and avoid disaster.

Most alarm systems are monitored via phone line. Whilst we offer this service, Calamity has smarter systems which communicate via your Internet connection and the mobile network. This means that your alarm will still protect you even if the phone lines are cut. In fact you don't even need a phone line to begin with, so there are no expensive call costs or line rental fees.

We design and install CCTV surveillance systems both for on-site viewing as well as remote viewing by our monitoring operators. Our operators can look-in and verify genuine crimes or safety issues and despatch help via our direct links to emergency services. Calamity also installs intercom and electronic access control systems.

WHY USE A MONITORED SYSTEM?

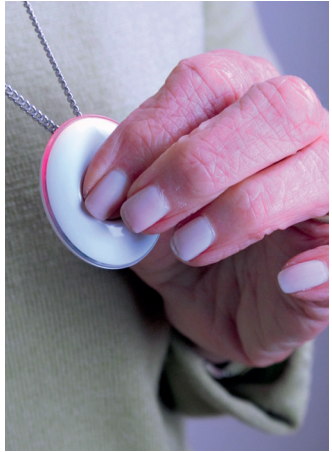

The simple fact is your neighbours aren't going to respond to a siren any more. Insurers know it and criminals know it. When criminals see our sign on your fence however, they know to go elsewhere. If your security or safety is ever at risk our operators can despatch a response within seconds according to your tailored instructions.

For corporate customers, we can design bespoke response protocols and send tailored emails and incident reports to allow management reporting and effective risk-management.

PROTECTING PEOPLE

As well as protecting property, Calamity's Silent Sentinel range of products is designed to assist people with medical, health or personal limitations. This includes automatic fall detection systems which can help protect seniors as well as provide for Work Health and Safety of lone-workers.

If you or your loved ones ever need help, it's only a button press away.

GOOD PEOPLE

Calamity is a major employer of people with disabilities and was the 2013 winner of the Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI) Diversity Awards. By using Calamity you are directly contributing to employment opportunities for disadvantaged Australians. When you choose Calamity, not only will you feel safe, you'll feel good.

WHY USE A CERTIFIED MONITORING CENTRE?

Even if you don't use Calamity it is important that you only use an AS2201.2 Certified monitoring centre. Insurers can deny claims if a non Standards-compliant system (including monitoring) is in use. Police can also refuse to accept calls from non-certified monitoring centres. You do not want to discover problems the hard way. Trusting your security to an ungraded monitoring provider is simply not worth the risk. Independent certification is your assurance that your property and people are being watched over by the right people in a completely reliable way. The complete list of ASIAL Certified monitoring centres is available online. Calamity's A1 grading and our Five Diamond certification put us at the highest levels of quality, security and integrity.
