Web Designer & Experienced Internet Marketer

While I do have the 'paperwork' (Masters in IT), I also have the practical experience of being an Internet marketer who knows what works NOW (and most importantly what doesn't!). The other thing is that I genuinely CARE about small business being an owner of one myself. I want to help you succeed online without feeling overwhelmed and without blowing your budget. I can provide you with a complete and professional online presence that will be the envy of your peers as well as ongoing support as needed.
