*Yes, it's all about YOU,
for a change!*

Spring, Summer... What a divine time of year!. Why not make a change and make this season all about you for a change?

If you are like most of us, you may be struggling to find time for yourself.

Chances are that if you continue waiting for that perfect time it will never come around.

Why not take a little spring break? Make this time all about you!

Flush Away Toxins

Wake your body up to metabolize fat! Eliminate fluid retention and puffiness of extremities!

Imagine what would happen to your car if the exhaust system couldn't remove toxic fumes from the engine! It's the same in our bodies. When we experience frequent headaches, digestive symptoms, fatigue, recurrent infections, and immune deficiency, it may indicate a need for detoxification therapy.

Natural health practitioners recommend cleanses in the spring to shed those extra kilos and give our overworked digestive systems, especially our livers, a much-needed rest.

You can use Presor Therapy as a seasonal cleanse and detoxification plan of good health.

Would you like to tune up your body? Perhaps drop a few kilos? Flush away toxins? This may sound too good to be true, but think again.

Take advantage of this introductory super specials which are not going to last, see page 3 for details.

Here are four excellent reasons to experience the benefits of Presor Therapy yourself (based on offer #3)

Pause the ageing of your skin—PART I

FACE—THE MAP OF YOUR LIFE

Pleasures, stresses of life, along with the simple passage of time tend to cause our skin to appear older & worn out. Fine lines, deep lines, smile lines, frown lines, spots, dots and dimples all form a map of our lives. It is also a map most of us want to soften and “blur” to help us age gracefully.

SIMPLE SKIN ANATOMY

Before any recommendations can be given let's look at basic skin anatomy and structure.

1. Epidermis: The outer layer of your skin. This protects the inner layers to whatever the environment may cause them.

2. Dermis: This is the skin's second layer. It contains its structural elements (hair, glands) and various types of connective tissue (collagen which gives skin strength, elastin which gives it elasticity etc).

3 Dermal-Epidermal Junction: This important feature interlocks in finger like projections called rete ridges, which increase area of the epidermis which is exposed to blood vessels for nutritional supply to the epidermis.

4. Subcutaneous tissue: This is the skin's bottom layer and contains the fat cells which insulate your body and make your skin full and plump.

PAUSE YOUR SKIN'S AGEING PROCESS

So, is there anything at all that we can do in order to prevent wrinkles and improve the appearance of our skin

Of course you can.

Starting with the small and simple changes in your lifestyle and ending with high-tech-super-facial treatments. These won't only boost your skin's natural collagen and elastin production, they'll also help reduce existing wrinkles and improve your skin's texture & even out your skin's color.

Skeyndor Mesoscience is a scientific breakthrough that is at the forefront of technological advancement in aesthetic modalities. It consists of a mini skin peel before each treatment and the four phases of electrotherapy (don't worry, it doesn't hurt!!)

The preparatory phase stimulates skin metabolism. Hydro electrophoresis assist ionisable active ingredients penetrate into the epidermis.

Following by electroporation to promote permeability of the cell membrane to transport active substances into the deeper layers of the skin.

The final stage, cryophoresis, has a strong toning and firming effect on skin and helps “lock in” the active ingredients in the cells.

It is a credible and scientifically proven technology that can assist you in achieving effective targeting of the facial wrinkles.

Laser, Skin & Wellness anti-aging wrinkle therapy tends to approach the issue of aging from various angles.

MesoScience reverses the whole metabolic process of aging and help restore a youthful look.

Are all Laser/IPL machines made the same?

Many of my clients and students ask me questions on equipment and how they differ. It is a complex subject but let me try to shed some light on the subject.

by Julia Grinberg

In a world of ever-changing technology it's hard to tell what types of ipl and laser hair removal machines are suitable for what skins and application. With hundreds of machines available, over 70 sold and promoted in Australia and more coming every year, which one to chose?

ORIGINS OF EQUIPEMENT: This wonderful light-based technology comes from all over the world. Some come from Europe and USA, others from Asia. But not all European equipment is good. And not all Asian one is bad. IMPORTANT NOTE: some manufacturers have produced several generations of machines which stood the test of time and have accompanying proven clinical studies. Others are new and have not yet invested enough time and effort into their equipment to be trusted.

ENERGY OUTPUT: It is generally accepted that higher level machines are more effective. Statistically though, incidents of side effects are higher with low energy machines. Additionally, most lower energy machines will generally create what's called a "laser-waxing" effect, where hairs will fall out temporarily but without permanent damage to any of the hair follicles. So be aware!

COST OF EQUIPMENT: Generally, the more expensive the machine the more flexible it will be and the wider variety of treatment options it can perform. Cost of your treatments can also depend on the price of equipment as well as how often it is maintained (both hardware & software) by its owner to make sure output of energy is adequate and safe.

RADIATION & SAFETY: Usually, all good quality machines have correct filters in/on their hand pieces to filter out UV radiation, making treatments very safe. However, when I recently trained someone on a newly imported equipment from Asia, I noticed that filters were installed (permanently) the wrong side in. Of course I suggested to change equipment immediately. But this raises question marks in my head about what types of machines are really out there and what they do to the consumer. Most good machines have the approval of radiation and other authorities.

More on this in the next issue.
