Press Release

Sydney Website Design Business opens new office on Queensland's Sunshine Coast.

CoastWebMedia

Website Design, Digital Media, Internet Marketing

Jon Hunt, Proprietor of CoastWebMedia has been a network engineer and Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer since 1999. Working in Sydney with Tardis-Net Computers, Jon and his team designed and built websites with a flair for difference and not just out of the box. Mr Hunt says, "Our service is personal, fast and reliable, we familiarise ourselves with your business and your products to assist in making the right decisions on the type of WEB presence your business requires. With many years of experience in Business Management, Online Retail, and Internet Services we can build you a full presence site or start small and scale up as your needs demand."

CoastWebMedia design websites, online stores, forums, blogs, Social Media campaigns and offer a full Web and Domain hosting Service. SEO services (Search Engine Optimisation) are also available for clients whose sites we build and maintain.
