

WHY GEEKMOBILE?

RAPID RESPONSE

Geekmobile offers Same-Day On-Site Service or It's Free! Here's how it works: just call 1-800-FIX-MY-PC Monday through Friday before 10 a.m., and a technician will come to your home or business before midnight. If, for any reason, we don't make it, your service is free -- guaranteed. Why hassle with disassembling your PC and hauling it to a repair shop every time it has problems?

FRIENDLY & HELPFUL

Computer help without the techno jargon, seriously! We're clean and only visible when needed, and leave when our job is done so you can get yours done. While we're there we'll take note of the details of your office technology setup so we'll be even better prepared for future visits or your requests concerning upgrades and new products.

PROFESSIONALLY QUALIFIED

We're computer networking consultants, firewall, disaster recovery, desktop support technicians, and professional computer programmers. We help growing businesses and home users successfully and securely maintain computer networks, desktops and firewalls. As your "Part-Time IT Department," Geekmobile delivers on-demand, on-site computer and network services that are convenient and reliable.

TEAM EFFORT

You get the whole Geekmobile Team - Our Geeks work together so when you call a Geek, you are calling on the entire Geekmobile team. Whether you have a virus and spyware or need your entire network re-designed and secured, we have a Geek for the task.

FREE CONSULTATION!

We're happy to provide a complimentary one-hour consultation for businesses with three or more computers. During our time together we'll learn more about your technology needs and answer your questions as to how we can help.

HOME SERVICES

We'll gladly visit your home or home-based business to fix your computers, networks and answer your technology questions.

We address our clients with polite, smart, qualified staff, who are not 'Geeks' as in 'unfashionable or socially inept people', but friendly, professional enthusiasts who are computer experts.

We speak PLAIN ENGLISH and help you get back to speed as quickly as possible. Because we come to you, there's no longer a need to pack up your computer and take it to the nearest dealer for repairs.

BUSINESS SERVICES

We have a resource pool of highly talented support engineers, developers and designers who are committed to producing solutions second to none! We specialize in computer and network support that is critical to small and medium-sized businesses in today's world.

Why hire a single I.T. professional when you could have a team of geeks at your disposal? Desktop support, networking, websites, hosting, programming, - Geekmobile offers the complete solution, taking your Information Technology to the next level.

DESKTOP/SERVER SUPPORT

Sluggishness, error messages, lockups and misbehaving programmes are all signs you are due for a maintenance service. We can tweak your system and get it running at peak performance again, upgrade your licensed software, anti-virus installations, spyware detection and removal, SPAM filtering and pop-up management. We offer same-day, next-day, after-hours, and weekend service repairing and troubleshooting your workstations and servers.

NETWORKS & WIRELESS

Get your computers on speaking terms - whether it's two temperamental PC's who refuse to share that printer or a plethora of machines with serious communication issues. From installing, configuring, securing wireless networks to problem solving, be it cable or wireless, we have the right solution. We also offer design and installation of VPN networks, so you can offer remote access to traveling or work-from-home employees and/or let multiple offices securely share the same data. We help you cut costs by optimizing your computer technology; enabling you to expedite the sharing of information among your customers, employees and suppliers.

INTERNET SECURITY

Installation and configuration of software or hardware based firewalls. Deployment of secure wireless networks. Web content filtering. These are all standard initiatives we can take to prevent your files falling prey to internet intruders. Identity theft, trojan viruses, stricter privacy laws and corporate espionage are every day occurrences. Let Geekmobile help protect your business.

BACKUPS

From in-house automatic back ups to offsite storage, our servers can look after the files you can't afford to lose. Protect all your important documents and files before disaster strikes. We can also help recover lost files resulting from hardware malfunctions, software conflicts, or viruses. Let Geekmobile help you plan for disaster recovery.

HARDWARE UPGRADES

Like many small and medium-sized businesses, your company might be unsure about how to upgrade or to replace your current PCs, servers, or other hardware. We'll help you take the guesswork out of the purchasing process by custom assembling systems to meet all of your specific computing needs. Our number one goal is to help your business compete profitably by selecting and using reliable and secure computer technologies. We help your business keep within budget by making realistic and reliable technology recommendations that are scalable for when your business expands.

ONE-ON-ONE TRAINING

Geekmobile offers personalized instruction at your place of business or home/office. If you need computer training from beginner to advanced we can bring easy-to-understand instruction for a flat hourly rate. Topics include: Windows/Mac/Linux operating systems, MS Office products, Palm/wireless applications, web and e-commerce applications, MYOB and other accounting packages. Geekmobile training will enable you and/or your employees to be more productive in the office.

SERVICE LEVEL AGREEMENTS

When your computer technology goes down, what does it mean to your business? Take the cost of tech repairs and add the cost of downtime and ask yourself 'do I want this to happen to my business?' Lower your costs for the latest technology and minimize downtime with our fast, on-site services. Our support agreements are completely customizable to meet the needs of your organization. We can be on site at your business once a week, every other day, 3 days a week, whatever your needs are.

HOSTING

We offer Domain Registration and Web Hosting solutions to establish your web presence, at prices everyone can afford! We specialize in shared hosting. Shared is perfect for small to medium sites with average growth rates. You share a server with other sites, meaning your costs are substantially reduced. You can choose a package that suits your immediate needs, then upgrade in the future when your needs change.
