In addition to benefiting from Darren Utz's more than 12 years experience in the finance sector, his clients also enjoy a highly personalised service.

Darren believes that personal qualities such as trust, honesty and compassion, as well as professionalism, are the hallmarks of a trusted adviser.

"While buying property can be stressful, complicated and time consuming, I offer clients peace of mind and the type of service I expect to receive – and I have high expectations," Darren says.

"Ultimately, it's the little things that make a difference when you're working with an adviser, such as having them listen with intent, hearing what you have to say, providing honest advice – even if it's not what you want to hear – and keeping you informed at every stage of the process. A personalised service is very important."

Darren is able to assist all property buyers to achieve their financial goals – from first home buyers, renovators and those looking to refinance, through to experienced investors.

"I can personally relate to families who face a number of competing financial interests, and I always ask myself 'is this how I would like to be treated?'," he says.

Darren has also completed a Graduate Diploma of Applied Finance and Investment through the Securities Institute of Australia.

Darren is happy to meet with clients in their homes, at their workplace or wherever it best suits their needs.
