With a vast real estate background I truly understand the importance of a dedicated team of staff or even related trades for example electricians and plumbers.

I found Brent McIntosh and his cohorts extremely efficient in all stages of contracting from; quotations, commencement of works and completion.

I have been mostly impressed by their attention to problem resolving especially when the unknown flounders. I found them to be exemplary in resolving such matters.

I have used them on our properties under management and also on our own homes and office at Greer & Greer and to say the very least, courteousness and punctuality is held in high esteem in team McIntosh Electricals.
