

Top Tips:

- Always get quotes in writing.
- If it is emergency work you should still get a written estimate before proceeding so there are no surprises when the work is completed.
- If the estimated value of the work or the contract becomes greater than $12,000 then the Electrical Contractor must provide Home Warranty Insurance.
- Check that the contractor you are using is licenced correctly under the Home Building License through the Department of Fair Trading Online Licence Check. To check a licence ensure that you select Home Building in Point 1, the contractors licence number in Point 2 and then click on the "I agree" to check your results.
- Use NECA members as they are Licenced, Skilled and Professional.
