Chess Electrics, formerly Kirwan Electrical, may have a new name but it is the same company that continues to give quality service and support to Biloela and surrounding regions.

As the Chess Electrics team celebrate their new business name, they would like to take the opportunity to thank all customers and local businesses for their support.

It has been more than 12 months since local couple Chris and Jess Witham purchased one of the Callide Valley's longest serving electrical contracting businesses and in this time they have not only maintained a high quality service, but expanded their operating territory, employed new staff and offered new services including mining services, commercial refrigeration, and solar design installation.

The team at Chess Electrics wanted to celebrate their most recent milestone by giving back to the community that has supported them, and so has decided to donate a number of soft teddy bears to the Biloela Hospital that can be used by staff to help comfort children who have been admitted under exceptional circumstances.

Chess Electrics donates to many different organisations and feels privileged to give back to the community and this is another avenue to do so," said Chris.

After 16 years in the electrical trade, Chris said that despite the change of name to Chess Electrics, the community could be assured that the business would be offering the same high standard of service and would remain at the forefront of the latest technological developments in the electrical and white goods arena.

"Our team will explore all prospective solutions, and identify the best possible option for your electrical and refrigeration needs," he said. While based in Biloela, The Chess Electrics team travel far and wide to service the electrical needs of the Banana Shire and surrounding regions.

Chess Electrics provides services within the domestic, industrial, commercial, rural and mining sectors.
