

The image shows the interior of a hair salon. In the foreground, there are two bright red, modern-style hair salon chairs with a circular cutout in the backrest, mounted on chrome bases. The floor is dark wood. In the background, there is a large glass display case filled with various hair care products. A large, spherical, multi-faceted chandelier hangs from the ceiling. On the left, a framed poster of a woman's face is visible. The overall atmosphere is clean and modern.

Based on this idea, scientists today develop high-calibre products in
