Welcome

Welcome to the Southern Cross Martial Arts Centre, the home of the Southern Cross Martial Arts Association Inc (IA41386; ABN 79 256 445 915). We are a non-profit, community based, multi disciplinary, professional martial arts school. Thank you for your interest. As far as martial arts schools go, we've really broken the mould! How so you may well ask? Consider this:

- We are a professional school with a strong community spirit – we support a number of charities (Love Your Sister, Fighters Against Child Abuse, Childwise etc), provide scholarships for kids in need, raise funds for charity with events like our Pink Karate breast cancer event, as well as having a program for teens considered to be 'at risk';
- We utilise a character development program developed by a professional, qualified developmental psychologist, Dr Robyn Silverman. Powerful Words is a powerful tool;
- All of our staff are trained professionals – this means they hold an instructor rank (usually black belt, but this can change depending on the art) and hold Nationally Recognised qualifications in martial arts coaching. We have a proven track record in training people to become instructors with our Chief Instructors having run an international school teaching just that, martial arts instructing and coaching;
- We apprentice young prospects early and put them through years of training on a formal traineeship so we can teach them the right way to teach;
- Our instructor training program prevents the abuse of the teacher/student relationship by making sure student volunteers aren't exploited, and that students are getting what they paid for - training by some of the best instructors in the industry;
- We are safety focussed and our senior instructors act as consultants to industry on safety in training, self defence training and much more;
- We believe in truth in advertising;
- We offer a money back guarantee;
- We don't lock people into long contracts;
- We enforce our student code of conduct;
- We offer a variety of professionally designed curriculums; and
- We have extraordinary facilities and equipment.

The information in this prospectus is fairly comprehensive and can take awhile to wade through, so here's a brief overview.

Southern Cross Martial Arts Association is a multi-discipline martial arts school with age specific programs suitable for ages 3 and up. We are a community minded school with a focus on personal development, fitness and self defence through martial arts training.

Our programs are professionally designed, our instructors are trained and qualified professionals and our facilities are second to none!

The reasons people take up training are as unique as the people themselves, and our wide range of training programs are all multi-faceted and aim to address the many valid reasons for making the lifestyle choice which is martial arts. Whilst we cater for the hard core martial artist, we recognise that not everyone wants to be 'hard core' and our varied programs are designed to meet the needs of the majority, and for those that want more (i.e. to be an MMA competitor or Muay Thai ring fighter), we have an excellent network of like-minded professional schools who can meet your needs.

With that in mind, our fitness and sporting programs within the centre are just that, fitness & sporting programs; they are distinct and separate from the reality based focus of the self defence specific programs. In the martial arts this distinction has become blurred over the years, and not all martial arts are for self defence (i.e. Olympic Tae Kwon Do is a sport), not all of them will make you fitter (i.e. T'ai Chi won't reduce a young athletes body fat, or increase their VO² max), and not all of them have a sporting application (i.e. our Senshido or SAFE Defence program). In a school like ours, a balance can, and is, achieved.

In many of our sport and fitness programs, the self defence benefits are incidental – you've learnt the techniques of the sport, and these can be (sometimes) used for defending yourself. All that is missing is the training in defensive strategies, defensive tactics and the winning mindset.

We offer we don't use lock in long term contracts and our payment methods are as flexible as our programs are comprehensive.

Our Senior Instructors

The Southern Cross Martial Arts Association is a family oriented organisation run by our two senior instructors, Kaichō (meaning Head of School) Damien and Shihan Hannah. They are ably assisted by a team of qualified and trainee instructors, and a host of volunteers in the SWAT program (Special Winning Attitude Team). Here's an overview of their backgrounds and experience:

Kaichō Damien Martin – 7th Degree Black Belt

Damien Martin is the Kaichō of the Southern Cross Martial Arts Association; that is to say, he is the Head Instructor. Damien has been training in the martial arts for over 30 years having initially commenced training in Judo in 1982 and then Zen Do Kai in 1984. Over the past 30+ years he has extended his interest in and explored the history and practices of a variety of martial arts; modern and traditional. Continuing his interest in all aspects of the martial arts he has researched and implemented many traditional aspects into his training, holding a 7th dan in Gōki-Kai Karate, a 5th dan in Okinawan Goju Ryu Karate, a 5th Khan in Muay Thai and is a 4th kyu Kudo Sempai.

Damien is highly qualified in the martial arts and associated fields and holds instructor qualifications in Okinawan Goju Ryu Karate, Muay Thai Kickboxing and Docé Pares Eskrima. He is a member of a number of internationally recognised martial arts organisations including the International Ryukyu Karate Research Society of Patrick McCarthy (9th dan, Hanshi) and the Okinawa Goju Ryu Kenkyukai of Masaji Taira (9th dan, Hanshi), as well as having been inducted into the Australasian Martial Arts Hall of Fame for services to the Martial Arts in 2005. Damien founded Gōki-Kai Karate-Do in 2008 when he started the Southern Cross Martial Arts Centre.

Damien worked in the security industry for 18 years where he was constantly exposed to some of the seedier and more violent characters in our society; an environment where techniques, tactics and training methods had to work! He has been lucky enough to travel the world with his work and has trained extensively in the US and the UK; he has also trained extensively in Okinawa, the birthplace of karate.

Currently Damien is the Gold Coast Shibuchō (branch Chief) of the Okinawa Goju Ryu Kenkyukai, and the Chief Instructor of the Gold Coast Kudo Doko Kai and runs classes at the Gōki-Kai Karate-Do So Honbu Dojo (Headquarters School).

Through his experience running an internationally recognised Registered Training Organisation (RTO) Damien is considered to be a pioneer and expert in scenario based self defence training and has been developing and delivering this training within the national training system for almost two decades.

Damien is also a qualified and experienced youth worker who works with a variety of 'at risk' and special needs young people in the Gold Coast region. Many of the young people he works with are wards of the State or are homeless and need guidance and support.

Outside of the martial arts Damien is a qualified firearms instructor trainer having trained extensively in the USA (H&K International Training Division, PPCT, Warrior Science Group, Smith & Wesson Academy) and has worked as a subject matter expert and consultant on training, interpersonal conflict and violence. He holds a Graduate Certificate in Autism Studies; has extensive undergraduate studies in psychology and criminology; a Certificate IV in Training & Assessment; Diploma of Training & Assessment Systems; Diploma of Sport & Recreation;

Diploma of Sport (Coaching); Advanced Diploma of Security (Risk Management); Diploma of Security (Access Management); Certificate IV in Fitness; NCAS Level 1 Club Weightlifting/Sport Power Coach accreditation; NCAS Level 1 Strength & Conditioning Coach; and is a Qld Commissioner for Declarations.

Megan Atkins – Fitness Kickboxing Trainer

Megan began her martial arts training at the age of 13 under Ajarn Geordie of Black Dragon Kai. It was through her training that she developed a passion for fitness and wellbeing. As a young girl battling confidence issues and depression, martial arts gave her a welcoming family and a place to bring out what was inside of her. The more skilled she became and the more aesthetically her body transformed, the more confident she became. Through her training, her interest in fitness developed into a passion for supporting others in their own mental & physical transformations.

Subsequently Megan completed her Certificate III & IV to become a qualified personal trainer & fitness instructor followed up with a Level 1 Strength & Conditioning Coaches qualification and courses for training Children. Megan is currently studying a Diploma in Management and will begin a Bachelor in Natural Medicine to become a Naturopath.

Our Logo

The Southern Cross Martial Arts Association, and Gōki-Kai Karate-Dō, is very proud to be a distinctively Australian organisation delivering uniquely Australian martial arts to the distinctly Australian population. We recognise that Australia is not Medieval Japan, 18th century Okinawa or even America or the UK. Whilst training systems from those eras and Countries have a great deal of merit, they are dealing with a whole range of different legal and cultural issues and contexts that we are not dealing with here and now. Australia's culture, history, legal system and multicultural mix requires specialist and local knowledge, that's where we come in to the picture.

The Southern Cross Martial Arts logo features the red, white and blue colours of the Australian flag, the stars of the Southern Cross and the triple comma's of the mitsu tomoe.

The Southern Cross is the constellation of stars which features on the Australian flag, as well as that of New Zealand, Brazil, Samoa and Papua New Guinea. The founder of Southern Cross Martial Arts, Kaichō Damien Martin, also had an ancestor at the Eureka Rebellion at Ballarat in 1854 and the Southern Cross features on the Eureka flag as well.

The background feature of the logo is the three comma like objects that are reminiscent of the Japanese mitsu tomoe and the spiral triskele design of the ancient Celts of Europe. The spirals tie the heritage of the company founder (distinctly Celtic; Cornish/Irish/Scot) to the Eastern philosophies of his martial arts studies. On a practical level the three spirals represent the aspects of the training of Gōki-Kai Karate-Dō: we train the mind, the body and the indomitable spirit.

Children's Programs

Further details on our children's programs can be found in the children's program prospectus. Ask for it at reception or visit our website at www.kidzkarate.com.

In our Kidz Karate programs we teach more than just kicks and punches, we teach your child to be the best they can be. To have a "Black Belt" Attitude; this incorporates the characteristics of good manners, courtesy, respect, humility, self-discipline, teamwork and honesty.

Students are encouraged and motivated through every stage of their development. We are not aiming to just teach students martial arts; our teaching encompasses all aspects of their personal development. Students learn the value of teamwork, good manners and trying their best at all times. The age specific curriculum has been professionally designed to teach children life skills in a fun, exciting and enriching manner.

Why is our school different? We've been told it's because we're professional. We've been told it's because we're experts. We've been told it's because our students feel like they become an extended family. We've won awards, won titles and been inducted into the Australasian Martial Arts Hall of Fame so we must be doing something right. We believe it's a combination of all of those things, but more so because we care.

Little Dragons – 3 & 4 years

Our Little Dragons Program is an age-appropriate curriculum for pre-schoolers aged 3 to 4 years old that focuses on improving basic motor skills, listening skills, and focus skills. Understanding how to wait their turn, not throwing objects in frustration, learning how to follow directions, being excited to exercise and learn new things and having the confidence to tackle new challenges are all lessons that a child must learn.

There are many factors that will affect a child's development and behaviours, but there are few places to turn that can do so in a fun, positive and enthusiastically educational way. Our Kidz Karate Little Dragons program addresses these issues and more. The Little Dragons Program will also prepare your child for our Junior Dragons Program. In the Little Dragon classes, your child will be exposed to positive social interaction. They will learn how to work with others and follow directions from their instructors. Our Little Dragon instructors are good role models who are trained specifically to work with children of this age.

Our program will enhance positive development in a fun and encouraging way.

When: Saturday 9am to 9:30am

Return to top

Junior Dragons – 5 to 7 years

The Junior Dragon program is an innovative program that was designed specifically for children between 5-7 years of age. It was developed out of a need to provide a safe and exciting training system for the younger kids that kept their young minds enthused. The syllabus is especially designed for younger children and has a shorter class time, which is perfect for their developing attention span!

The classes are structured in such a way that students are learning the very basic principles of martial arts in a fun and exciting manner.

The Junior Dragons program is centred on the 8 skills that are inherent in every martial artist, they are: Focus, Balance, Teamwork, Discipline, Control, Fitness, Memory & Coordination. As you would be aware children in this age group learn through play so we use lots of age-specific games to teach these very important skills.

Once the Junior Dragons have elevated through the ranks and are ready for graduation into the Kidz Karate classes they will be a sharper student in class (as well as at school!) and will exhibit better self discipline and listening skills than those children who enrol directly into the Kidz Karate classes.

When: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday 4pm – 4:45pm and Saturday 9:30am-10:15am

Return to top

Red Dragons – 8 to 12 years

The Red Dragon program extends on from the Junior Dragon's with students learning from a more traditional martial arts syllabus. This program was designed specifically for older primary school aged children between the ages 8-12 years and, whilst the Red Dragon program encourages self-discipline and self-control whilst teaching many important life skills to students, it also focuses on effective self defence.

These self defence skills are tailored towards giving each child skills to spot and avoid trouble, communicate effectively to defuse conflict situations before they get out of hand, and effective physical techniques and skills as a last resort. Whilst this is a karate based program, we also include non-striking options and have incorporated the hugely effective Gracie Junior Combatives program into our curriculum.

The non-striking option is important when you consider that most schools today have zero tolerance to fighting policy. On the surface this is a good thing in response to bullies, however it also means that a child could be punished or even expelled for defending themselves from violence and bullies!

The rank system has been modified to enable young martial artists to gain a solid grounding in both the physical and mental aspects of karate. All rank requirements are similar to the senior karate curriculum but all of the more difficult or less appropriate techniques have been removed. The rank graduations are also in smaller steps to keep the kids focused on their goals.

As Red Dragon students learn similar skills to their older counterparts they can easily move into the adult Gōki-Kai classes once they are both confident and old enough to do so.

When: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday 5pm – 6pm and Saturday 11am – 12pm

Return to top

Kidz Thai Boxing - 8 to 12 years

Kidz Thai Boxing is a fun class aimed toward primary school aged kids. Classes incorporate the explosive skills of Muay Thai Kickboxing in a safe and controlled environment. Muay Thai is known as one of the world's most practical stand up self defence arts and young Thai children often start training at 4 years old. For safety reasons, we start a little later than that and our classes are designed for 8 to 12 year olds.

The techniques of this sport are surprisingly simple and easy to learn and encompass kicks, knees, punches and elbows. Training is non-contact (no sparring) and revolves around the use of the traditional Muay Thai kickboxing tools of the boxers focus mitts, the kick shield and the Thai forearm pads.

Training provides cardio activities through Thai boxing drills performed on various training pads and lightweight bags. Due to the high impact nature of the padwork, classes are of 45 minutes duration and participants wear shin/instep protectors and hand mitts along with their traditional Thai shorts and uniform shirt.

The class format is not as regimented as traditional martial arts, although respect and common courtesy is instilled during class activities which start on entry with a bow of respect at the door. Kids love games! Co-ordination and movement are the essence of martial skills and what better way to enhance learning through the enjoyment of games, games that combine martial skills and understanding. What a fabulous gift to give your child, the confidence of self belief in themselves through modern martial interests.

Participants in the Kidz Thai Boxing track their progress via their Kidz Thai Boxing training diary and their progression is demonstrated via the use of the traditional Thai Boxers Armband (called Prajiet in Thai).

Youth Karate

The Youth Karate program extends on from the Red Dragon's and addresses the needs and learning style of our teenage members. The skills and drills encompass all of the skills required in the adult program but are delivered somewhat differently. This program was designed specifically for early teens between the ages 13-15 years and, whilst the Youth Karate program encourages self-discipline and self-control whilst teaching many important life skills to students, it also focuses on effective self defence.

These self defence skills are tailored towards giving each child skills to spot and avoid trouble, communicate effectively to defuse conflict situations before they get out of hand, and effective physical techniques and skills as a last resort. Whilst this is a karate based program, we also include non-striking options and have incorporated the hugely effective Gracie Combatives program into our curriculum.

The non-striking option is important when you consider that most schools today have zero tolerance to fighting policy. On the surface this is a good thing in response to bullies, however it also means that a child could be punished or even expelled for defending themselves from violence and bullies!

Once again we utilise the excellent Powerful words program from Dr. Robyn Silverman to initiate discussions with our students about a variety of life skills and values.

The youth Karate program is taught by Damien, a 7th degree black belt in Karate with over 30 decades of teaching experience. He is also an experienced youth worker and holds tertiary qualifications in psychology.

This program enables Red Dragon's graduates to transition to the more difficult and complex adult skills and concepts, whilst also addressing the needs of newly entering teenage students.

Gōki-Kai Karate

Gōki-Kai means the Courageous Heart / Aussie Spirit (豪氣) School and was founded by Kaichō Damien Martin (7th Dan) in 2008 and is an eclectic and modern expression of self defence based martial arts. The system is a blend of old and new: ancient philosophies & modern sports psychology; relevant self defence skills & traditional martial arts templates (kata); discipline & fun; 'old school' hard training & modern exercise science.

The Karate taught at Gōki-Kai is a modern expression of Okinawan Goju Ryu Karate, and is the quintessential mixed martial art, incorporating techniques from Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, BJJ and modern unarmed combat systems. We work the main ranges of unarmed fighting with the strikes and stand-up work of Karate, boxing and Muay Thai, with the grappling & throws of Judo and the takedowns of BJJ. We work ground defence from freestyle wrestling, Judo and BJJ and work with reality based scenario training regularly. Gōki-Kai is a self defence art to its core!

Our solo and partner based templates (kata) are those of traditional Okinawan Goju Ryu, with an emphasis on practical application in a modern self defence context. Our kata are focussed on self defence applications as taught by Masaji Taira Sensei, the chief instructor of the Okinawa Goju Ryu Karate Do Kenkyukai (Okinawa Goju Ryu Karate Do Research Society). Taira Sensei focuses on function over form.

Okinawan Karate is purely self defence focused and has none of the sport based 'glitches' often found in Japanese Karate. It is the pure form of the original art.

Gōki-Kai is a new breed, a progressive traditional school of karate which focuses on the effectiveness of technique in self defence. We are progressive in that we focus on scientific self defence incorporating all ranges of combat; and we are traditional in the values and culture of the Dojo. This is an environment focusing on mutual respect, dedicated

In keeping with the traditional format, plain unadorned uniforms are the norm, and you are only as good as your last session. There is minimal ceremony, but mutual respect and consideration are important.

Our philosophy regarding technique is "if it works, use it" and regarding training is "respect all, fear none".

Whilst we recognise the importance of self defence training and the use of realistic scenarios to achieve optimal results, safety is paramount and our senior instructors are industry leading experts with thousands of training scenarios under their proverbial belt. We understand that people come to learn how to defend themselves from attacks which could injure and maim, therefore being injured in training is regarded as a waste of time. Our progressive system of skill development and pressure testing has stood the test of time.

Muay Thai

Muay Thai means Thai Boxing and it is the national sport of Thailand. Muay Thai has a history dating back hundreds of years. Muay Thai is now a ring sport with international popularity and renown. The 8 weapons of Muay Thai (2 hands, 2 elbows, 2 knees and 2 shins) still dominate MMA too.

At SCMA our Muay Thai / Kickboxing classes are an energetic cardio workout broken up into 2 minute rounds and accompanied by music. Each class works on a fundamental skill of Muay Thai and develops the students fitness, technique and fighting spirit. The training sessions are an hour long.

Participants of all levels participate in training sessions utilising focus mitts, forearm (Thai) pads, kick shields, as well as a variety of bodyweight exercises. The sessions are a great fat burning workout!

Classes are co-ed with participant ages ranging from 13 to 50. Everyone is welcome and participants are able to train at their own pace.

Muay Thai students track their progress via their Muay Thai training diary and their progression is demonstrated via the use of the traditional Thai Boxers Armband (called Prajiet in Thai).

Get fit! Have fun! Gain confidence! Learn some great self defence moves along the way!

Instructors are experienced and qualified martial arts and fitness trainers with a minimum of 10 years teaching experience. Instructors also hold nationally recognised training & coaching qualifications, as well as being qualified Muay Thai trainers – known as 'Kru' in Thai.

When: Monday & Wednesday from 7:15pm to 8:15pm
Saturday from 1pm to 2pm

Southern Cross Martial Arts Centre is affiliated with the World Champion producing Black Dragon Combat Systems—home of WKBF Atom Weight World Champion Jessica 'Dragon Noi' Lavers-McBain and the stable of Muay Thai champions trained by Ajarn Geordie Lavers-McBain.

Fitness Kickboxing

FITNESS KICKBOXING

New introductory special!

3 classes and a pair of boxing gloves for $26.99

Gloves valued at $55

Our Fitness Kickboxing classes have been developed by professional martial artists, fitness professionals and strength & conditioning coaches to enable participants of all fitness levels to maximise their results and reach their fitness goals.

The best part is that no experience or fitness is needed to get started. Even if you have never done an exercise class before, or never thrown a punch or a kick, our qualified instructors will guide you through every step of the way.

In each class you will learn practical kickboxing combinations that you will get to practice on your own boxing bag at your own pace. Then you can pick up the pace and get the most awesome cardio workout.

The hour long classes will have you burning around 800 calories increasing your strength flexibility confidence and enabling you to get more out of each day.

The end result will have you leaner toned and bursting with energy!

The format follows the basic principles of variable duration kickboxing rounds utilising the whole body, interspersed with various bodyweight exercises and, for the more experienced, kettle bells and medicine ball exercises. The classes follow a high intensity interval training protocol (HIIT), which has been found by scientists to produce longer lasting fat burning effects due to the 'after burn' effect on the metabolism.

So it's not just the 500 to 800 calories burnt during the session that make it effective, but it's the fact that your kick started metabolism keeps burning fat after the workout.

Kudo

Southern Cross Martial Arts Centre is an official Kudo DokoKai, a training centre.

Kudo is a fast paced combat sport working all the ranges of bare handed fighting, including long range strikes like kicks, to mid range punches, as well as close range strikes from the clinch such as elbows and head butts etc. Kudo allows throwing and limited ground fighting, so it pretty much covers all of the areas of our curriculum, which is what attracted us in the first place.

Check out Alexei Kononenko's highlight reel on YouTube for an idea of how it looks and works. Alexei is the 11 times all Japan Kudo Champion who came here to kick us off early in 2013.

Kudo is a combat sport in and of itself and its sanctioning body is Daido Juku, from Japan. It was founded by former Kyokushin great, Azuma Takashi (9th dan) in 1981, and formalised as a martial art in 1991 and is now recognized by the World Games.

Kudo classes involve sparring drills and sparring in accordance with the Kudo competition rules and are open to all Kudo Queensland members, as well as all SCMA senior members from the Muay Thai and/or Karate classes. Membership to Kudo Australia and/or Kudo Queensland is mandatory for this class.

The first ever Kudo tournament in Australia was successfully run from our Dojo and we continue to have competitors in each tournament since. Australia has now fielded fighters in the World Games in Cali in 2013, the Russian Invitational in Moscow in 2013 and now against Japan at the inaugural National training camp at the Australian Institute of Sport over Easter 2014.

The Kudo/Daido Juku ranking structure is a little different too, with green belt being the first instructor rank.

When: Kudo at SCMA is taught on a seminar/workshop basis as all techniques are contained within the Karate curriculum.

Student Code of Conduct

Student Code of Conduct

The Southern Cross Martial Arts Centre is a progressive traditional self defence school that combines modern training methods and a scientific approach, yet still follows and promotes traditional values. Our training sessions are conducted in the spirit of mutual co-operation and friendly competition to enable everyone to develop their personal skills.

Traditional values at our school means acting with the:

- Spirit of Contribution
- Spirit of Respect

We endeavour to promote the positive aspects of martial culture and this is achieved through the use of traditional methods such as belt ranking systems, a school hierarchy and traditional rituals of respect and courtesy which honour the founders and predecessors of the arts we study. As such:

- Always bow when entering and leaving the training area. We also bow at the commencement and completion of each class, as well as to our training partners before and after training drills.
- Always refer to instructors by their teaching rank or title. If unsure, the title Sensei will suffice.
- Appreciate that martial arts, regardless of 'style', is defensive in nature and violence, either in or out of the school, will not be tolerated.
- Show respect for each other, and cultivate the virtues of modesty and humility.
- Recognise that a martial arts school is not a democracy. Know that your instructors are professionals and have your best interests at heart.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ's)

The martial arts industry of today is vastly different from what it was over 30 years ago when Kaichō Damien started training. For a start, now there's Sensei Google to ask all of your questions and do your research. That being said, there is a lot of myths and misinformation floating around in cyberspace, as well as a lot of martial arts schools on the Gold Coast. This can make things a little confusing.

We hope the following FAQ's helps you decide what you want to do.

Do you have beginner's classes?

Yes, and no; it depends on the program. We maintain high instructor/student ratios and make sure beginners are partnered up with a more experienced student to help them navigate their first few weeks. This helps them acclimatise quickly and, more importantly, safely.

Most classes are open to all and students will be grouped based on their skill level. The curriculum is designed to enable people of different experience levels to work together safely.

Is this a good school to learn martial arts?

Southern Cross Martial Arts Centre is the perfect place to begin your journey. The instructors are friendly and caring professionals, the students hold no ego, the establishment is professional and probably one of the best in Queensland. We strive to make this the best place to learn. Our school isn't a 'fight gym', instead it is a place where members of the community come to learn martial arts in a fun and relaxed environment.

Do I need to make an appointment for my introductory lesson?

Yes, please make an appointment so we can make sure we have everything ready for you to go and smooth your transition. For children this is especially important as the introductory lessons are 'one on one' and we need to make sure we have the right instructor available to help you out. Ring 56656269 or email info@southerncrossmartialarts.com for an appointment.

What can I expect from my first class?

First you will feel very welcome from the moment you contact us. You will meet a nice group of people who hold no ego in the class. The initial classes will help you get fit and prepare your body for this activity. Understanding the fundamentals is important. You will learn the basics that form the foundation to all martial arts techniques.

All classes begin with some sort of warmup to prepare the mind and body for the exercise to follow. Beginners will not normally 'know' the routine but they will be guided by the instructors and the more experienced members of the class. Don't worry, everyone in the room started as a white belt at some stage. After the warmup there is usually some sort of general conditioning and fitness work, followed by basic drills and then the class curriculum content. Finally there is the cool down phase.

What should I wear for my first class?

If you have any other Gi (uniform) from another martial art school you can use that for your trial classes. Otherwise wear T-shirt and shorts or exercise pants, something you don't mind getting ripped or stretched. Avoid using clothes with pockets and zippers. Also bring a towel and a bottle of water.

Who/what should I bring for my first lessons?

For your introductory classes you basically just need to bring yourself and your training clothes. If you are under 18 you must be accompanied by your parent/guardian. Please arrive 10 minutes prior to the class to fill in the form.

What is the pricing structure for the classes?

We have a flexible pricing structure. We offer our students different types of memberships / payments methods. Prices vary based on things like how many times a week you plan to train, if you want to pay in advance, weekly, monthly or direct debit. The cheapest method is annually in advance, whereas the most expensive is casual per class. Choose one that suits you. Please call us or enquire at reception. More details are in the membership section.

Do you offer family discounts?

Yes, if you have other members of your family joining up with you then you are probably eligible to get the family discount. More details are in the membership section.

Can I suspend my membership?

Yes you can. Fees do apply depending on circumstances. More details are in the membership section.

What do I do if I'm sick or injured?

Please do not come to training if you are contagious and make sure you make yourself familiar with the infection control policy, it's there for everyone's safety. If you are injured, discuss your injury with your class instructor to see if it is safe to participate in the classes. You may need medical advice. You can suspend your membership if need be. More details are in the membership section.

There's a school up the road for $7 a class. Why are your classes so expensive?

Our classes are taught by professional instructors in a fully equipped professional school. This is not a hobby school and as such we have overheads like rent, insurance, wages and so on. We also have an obligation to all of our members to keep our doors open. Our fees offer great value for money based on the benefits of training at Southern Cross Martial Arts Centre, and based on the level of service.

Do you have long term contracts?

No we don't. We do have ongoing direct debit agreements which can be cancelled with 7 days written notice. More details are in the membership section.

Why do I have to give 7 days notice to quit?

The 7 days notice ensures that we process the paperwork and have everything sorted with the billing company in order to change, amend or cancel your membership. Most schools have lock in contracts and we have benchmarked against the standard industry practices and this is a very short notice period and another example of how we go the extra distance to provide exemplary service to our members.

What if another payment comes out during the 7 day cancellation period?

We have no control over when you decide to suspend or cancel your membership, only you do. Any payments that may come out during the cancellation period are non-refundable.

Do you have a 'cooling off period'?

The Fitness Industry Code of Practice here in Queensland mandates a 7 day cooling off period for direct debit agreements and contracts. We actually go far above and beyond this and offer a 30 day money back guarantee. See the guarantee section for details.

Why is the enrolment process so long?

The enrolment process also includes an induction into the school and covers all the basics of membership including our health and safety policies, our membership system, our cancellation policy and no on. It is designed to ensure everyone knows exactly what they are signing up for, and for how long, as well as to answer any questions. During the process you will complete a physical activity readiness questionnaire (PAR-Q), a waiver/indemnity form, and your direct debit form (if you're paying that way). No-one wants any surprises after they've joined up!

The first stage is to enrol online and complete our online induction video, and fill in an online form and make payment through one of our online payment methods (i.e. online payment portal, direct deposit or PayPal). We send you the information after you complete your trial program. Once the online portion is complete you make an appointment to book in and complete the process, sign the forms and receive your uniform (if applicable).

For the record, in the 12 years since we implemented the enrolment guarantee, we've never had anyone claim on it. See the guarantee section for details.

What do I get when I enrol?

That will depend on the class or program you enrol in as different martial arts systems have different uniforms and requirements. In some programs you may receive your initial uniform and belt during special promotions. Talk to the staff at reception for details.

For most classes you will also receive a CD-ROM. This contains a copy of the induction PowerPoint, plus details of your class curriculum. For the children's programs there are welcome booklets and some introductory videos as well.

What makes you different from the other martial arts schools?

This is a tricky question. See the welcome section for details.

Are you Government Accredited?

The martial arts industry in Queensland is regrettably unregulated at this stage. That is something we've been working hard to change! That being said all of our staff hold a positive working with children check from the Commission for Children & Young People (also known as a blue card), are first aid qualified, hold art specific teaching credentials AND have a variety of nationally recognised qualifications issued by accredited Registered Training Organisations. All class instructors also hold (at least) a level 1 coaching accreditation under the National Coaching Accreditation Scheme (administered by the Australian Institute of Sport) plus a nationally recognised coaching accreditation specialising in martial arts instructing. In short we exceed the accreditation standards for martial arts schools in all states – by a lot!

I have no prior Martial Arts experience. Is that ok?

No experience is necessary. Just walk in, register and prepare to have a good time. See for yourself how much fun and exciting it can be.

Can I try the classes before deciding to sign up?

Yes, indeed. We offer a FREE trial to any legitimate new students to come along and try before you enrol. This gives you the opportunity to see our facilities and meet the instructors and students. We encourage this and believe that any school that does not probably has something to hide.

Are your classes safe?

Yes they are. As a sport/recreational activity, martial arts has a great safety record and is far safer than 'mainstream' sports like football (all codes), basketball, hockey and so on. The Southern Cross Martial Arts Centre has an excellent safety record that puts us well above the normal school as well. This is due to our professionally trained instructors, well structured curriculum and thorough risk management processes – things like our policies and procedures, our induction process, the use of a PAR-Q and so on.

Nobody likes to get injured and, whilst injuries can occur in any contact sport, we are mindful of the fact that people need to be able to get up and go to school or work the next day. We do everything we can to minimise the risk of injury, and we expect the same of our members.

Are you a McDojo?

Definitely not. Our focus is on developing solid skills. In our school all belts (or armbands!) are earned, not bought and rank is based on objective, pre-published testing criteria, not attendance.

Can I transfer my current rank from another school?

Sometimes this is possible although given that there is no central registration body, belts from different school have different requirements. The colours are not even in a standard order and it varies from school to school. This means that whilst yellow is the first belt in most of our classes, it may be in a different place in other schools – like the 4th or 5th belt. This can create a problem where students could be mismatched, and increase the risk of injury. So whilst we can recognise your skills, the actual belt colour may not be part of our system, or the requirements may vary greatly (i.e. most Tae Kwon Do schools don't have grappling in their curriculums, and we do). This means that even if everything else is 'equal' you have a skills gap we need to work with you to fix.

Our practice is to recognise that the person coming from another school has skills and we assess them over a period of a month or so to see where they fit in with our curriculum. During this time they wear a different belt, which is outside of our grading system, and everyone else's too as far as we know. This shows everyone that you're not a beginner, but we're looking at your level in our curriculum. Once we've worked it out you will be awarded your new SCMA belt (or armband!). If you are a student who has not achieved a black belt yet, you will wear a sand coloured belt during this assessment period (or white with a red stripe in the Little Dragons or Junior Dragons programs)

That being said, we believe that once you've earned a black belt, then you're a black belt. The caveat here is that it may be some time before you grade again as you are effectively learning our curriculum plus your new belt requirements.

Are there any age restrictions?

For safety reasons the answer is yes, although these vary from class to class.

For the Little Dragons program the age is generally 3 and 4 year olds, although we conduct individual assessments for children for these classes. Check the Kidz Karate program information for specific details.

For the Junior Dragons program the age is 5 to 7 years.

For the Red Dragons program the age is 8 to 12 years although in some exceptional cases children may graduate in to the Youth Karate class earlier.

For the Youth Karate the ages are generally 13 to 15 years of age although some people, by negotiation, may enter the full adult program earlier.

For the Kidz Thai Boxing the ages are 8 to 12 years, although once again we do conduct individual assessment to ensure the safety of all.

Are there any gender restrictions?

No restrictions on any of our classes. Men, women, boys and girls are all welcome to join.

Are there any other restrictions?

Sometimes there are safety restrictions for classes and this will be discussed during your induction. If you have a serious chronic illness or injury, have had recent surgery or other health complications, then we may require a doctor's clearance.

Why don't you offer one day a week memberships?

We used to but discontinued them as they were quite dysfunctional and disruptive overall. For starters, one session a week vastly reduces the students ability to progress with the curriculum. Progress is not half as fast, it's more like 1/10 for most people as the gaps between classes mean that they have forgotten the previous lesson before the skill comes around again. This is frustrating for them (and us), particularly given all of their classmates who train two or more times a week have moved on up the ranks.

Whilst martial arts provide many benefits to participants, these benefits come from actually training, not from attendance or membership.

If you can only commit to one session a week then we'd suggest another Dojo as we feel we'd be taking membership fees without delivering maximal benefit.

Note on Skill Stripes: Junior programs are divided into two tracks for the delivery of skill stripes; Track 1 is Monday, Wednesday & Saturday whilst Track 2 is Tuesday & Thursday. The two tracks are further divided into (A) & (B) days with (A) indicating the introduction of new material whilst (B) indicates practice/consolidation of that new material taught in (A) for possible assessment. Classes are therefore paired by day & skill (i.e. Track 1 (A) & (B), or Track 2 (A) & (B) etc) based on attendance for two classes a week on a basic membership. Ideally the student will attend Mondays & Wednesdays, or Tuesdays & Thursdays for a simple 8 week track of skills run consecutively. Training on a Track 1 & Track 2 rotation (i.e. Monday & Thursday) is still an 8 week cycle, but skills are not consecutive; this means one session is early in the cycle and one skill is later in the cycle. Saturdays are for skill consolidation and cover the same skill as Track 1. If a student does Track 2 plus the Saturday, they will still cover two lessons for that particular skill every 8 week cycle, it will just not be consecutively (i.e. one class after the other).
