CPMS Commercial Managing Director Wendy Thomson, is a well-known industry thought leader and qualified Contract Commercial Trainer teaching the intricacies of the Commercial Property market through the Real Estate Institute of Victoria.

Why CPMS commercial?

- We are a boutique Commercial Real Estate Agency and solely focus on commercial property
- We offer a big picture approach with small company care
- We have a dedicated Property Management and Administration team
- We understand that each of our clients' needs are unique and we take a personalised approach to every property portfolio
- We offer independent and objective property advice and work with business advisors, accountants, financial planners, consultants and investors to deliver impeccable service and superior results

Since 2004 we have been assisting our clients to make the best property decisions for their individual needs through utilising our expert industry knowledge and global networks. We work tirelessly to ensure that our clients' expectations are exceeded and always have their best interests at heart.

In a rapidly growing industry, we firmly believe that ongoing professional development is necessary and our team stay up to date with the latest real estate and technology trends, allowing us to remain at the forefront of the commercial real estate market.

While all of our clients come from an eclectic range of backgrounds and industries, they all have one thing in common - the desire to work with the best.

We welcome you to become one of our valued clients and look forward to working with you.
