PRICE CHART for popular sizes

The best way to select the right canvas size and shape is to measure up your wall and decide what shape will fit that space best. Consider the type of image you'll be printing when choosing your canvas shape. The length and width are interchangeable, meaning you can have a rectangle either landscape or portrait. Custom sizes available, talk to us for more information.

Submitting Digital Photos

Resolution 250dpi minimum, 300dpi recommended.

When using digital cameras, take the images in the largest size possible as this will determine the size you are able to use them at.

File format RGB - JPEG format with no compression (maximum quality, baseline standard).

File size Large images can be reduced with no loss of quality, but small images always lose quality when they are enlarged.

File names Each file should be given a number and a name that identifies the photograph.
eg: you may need to tell us 'change image 'A1 family group' to black and white'.

Page Layout

Please use the page layout form provided. Keep a copy for your records.

ALBUM and CALENDAR

There is a maximum number of 5 photos per page.

On the form write the page number, photo name and any notes relating to that image. eg:

DVD

The standard design of your DVD can have up to 200 photographs. Organising your photographs into groups or including home movies will give you chapters for easy selection on your DVD.

Submitting You Own Artwork

Please use the templates provided for the appropriate measurements. You can use your choice of program to create your artwork as long as the final pages are supplied as PDF files.

Save your PDF files starting with you order number (provided on receipt of your order form), page number and your name. eg: DC1234 Cover JBrown.pdf, DC0050 p1 JBrown.pdf
